Curator, The American Numismatic Society,
Broadway and 156th Street,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Wood:

Please accept my hearty thanks for the information you so kindly and promptly gave in regard to the value of old French currency.

I've always wondered why historical romances didn't append a table of values - in terms, say, of a loaf of bread - for the various coins that fictional characters are constantly slapping down on the counter.

Very gratefully yours,

Assistant Librarian.
